

Training for new Specialist Leaders of Education (SLEs) Autumn Term 2017

About the training

This exciting programme introduces consistent, standardised, high quality training that is school-led and rigorously quality assured. It is written and delivered exclusively by practising SLEs and informed by their knowledge and experiences. It aims to ensure that recently designated SLEs receive the very best preparation for their role in their sub-regional contexts. In the last year more than 50 SLEs have successfully completed the training and delegate feedback has been excellent.

Who should attend?

Any new or recently appointed SLEs or designated SLEs who have not yet undertaken training. The programme design keeps time spent away from school to a minimum.

Accreditation

Completion of the course leads to the award of the South East regional SLE accreditation (introduced 2016). Participants must engage with the whole course and attend both sessions for accreditation.

Details of SLEs who complete the programme will be promoted on the TSC website www.tscouncil.org.uk.
